The Conservation Volunteers

TCV has been at the forefront of environmental volunteering since 1959. In celebration of our 60th anniversary and thanks to the generous support of players of People's Postcode Lottery, we are delighted to offer your group Community Network Membership free of charge for one year, when you join in 2019.

TCV developed our Community Network to support the thousands of groups across the UK who are passionate about protecting their local environment or those who wish to create new green spaces to reflect their community's unique needs.

Whether you're experts or just thinking about getting involved in environmental activities we can give you a helping hand to turn your vision into reality. From developing a new food growing plot, to creating an outdoor classroom or designing a haven for wildlife, we are here to support you.

Membership of TCV's Community Network is open to all groups who want to work for a better local environment, whether your group is newly formed or well established.

"Our community group has been in existence for some ten years but it is only over the last three that it has really begun to thrive. Now things are growing so fast it is difficult to catch our breath sometimes. Having the support of TCV is just invaluable – the discounts, the advice, the help with the insurance – where would we be without all that? Whatever question we may have we are safe in the knowledge that we have one port of call for an answer – TCV."

JOHN BULLEN, CHAIR, OVER HULTON COMMUNITY GROUP
