#IDigTrees Toolkit

Over 1 million trees.
And growing.

We can't wait to hear about your tree planting endeavours this year! Your tree planting efforts are needed now more than ever and we couldn't achieve such fantastic results for climate, wildlife and communities without the help of people like you: wonderful volunteers and community groups, coming together to make a real difference in such challenging times. So first of all, THANK YOU!

This two-page toolkit includes resources designed to help you communicate the I Dig Trees program's key messaging and share your fantastic events. It is designed to be easily shared via email with your volunteers and includes clickable links which will navigate to further resources.

Key statement

Our key message to be used as much as possible whenever talking about I Dig Trees:

"#IDigTrees - Over 1 million trees. And growing."

Sharing your social media posts

We LOVED seeing your events last year on social media and where possible we shared your images and videos on our channels to highlight your fantastic achievements at a national level!

Please continue to share your fantastic images, videos and stories. Most importantly, don't forget to tag us using the social media links below.

Hashtags & handles

Please use the #IDigTrees hashtag on social media platforms, encouraging volunteers and participants to do the same!

It's a great idea to tag your posts and photos with our national handles – this helps us to keep track of all I Dig Trees-related posts and share where we can...

Sharing our social media posts

This year we will be leading the I Dig Trees social media campaign with the short video above, which you'll find pinned to our social media pages (links above). Please like, retweet and share this post far and wide, plus any of our subsequent posts with the #IDigTrees hashtag, so together we can spread the word that we have a further 370,000 carbon-busting trees to give away this year!
